DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-6 and 14-18, drawn to a document feeder or image reading apparatus including drive means connected to transporting means for driving the same and capable of rotating in forward and reverse directions, classified in class 271, subclass 225.
 - II. Claims 7-13, drawn to a document feeder including a light-shielding cover member disposed under a sheet feed stacker, classified in class 271, subclass 3.14.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are directed to related document feeding devices. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed can have a materially different design and a materially different function, because independent claim 7 of invention II includes a unique light-shielding cover member, which is not present in either one of the independent claims 1 and 14 of invention I. Moreover, independent claims 1 and 14 of invention I include a unique drive means that functions to rotate transporting means in both forward and reverse directions, which is not present in independent claim 7 of invention II. Also, inventions I and II are mutually exclusive, because the different recited features in the independent claims of inventions I and II are patentably distinct features (e.g., the light-shielding cover member in independent claim 7 of invention II is patentably distinct from the features set forth in independent claims 1 and 14 of invention I). In addition, the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants, because it is not obvious to provide the light-shielding cover member in either one of the independent claims 1 and 14 of invention I. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Thomas A. Morrison whose telephone number is (571) 272-7221. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F, 8am - 5pm.
